About the qualification

The qualification is a vocationally related qualification for the housing sector, regulated by SQA Accreditation.

The objective of this qualification is to provide learners with the skills and knowledge required to maintain communal areas of housing estates and neighbourhoods.

The qualification aims to:

- Recognise competence in the field of estate or neighbourhood maintenance
- Enable frontline workers to undertake their work more effectively.

The qualification is suitable for learners:

- Aged 16+
- Who are working in the housing sector undertaking estate or neighbourhood maintenance.

Entry requirements

CIH AO do not set entry requirements. CIH AO recommend that in order to pursue achievement of the qualification, the learner will:

- Have the potential and opportunity to gain the qualification
- Be working in estate and neighbourhood maintenance in housing or a housing related organisation.

Further details of the level that the learner needs to be able to achieve are provided in the section on SCQF level 5 descriptors.

Progression routes

The learner may wish to progress onto further learning by specialising in their particular skills or studying a generalist property maintenance qualification at a higher level.

SCQF Level 5 descriptors

The SCQF level 5 descriptors indicate the level that a learner must be working at in order to achieve the qualification.

They are not to be used as marking criteria but may be used as an initial assessment tool to determine the level of learners.

National 5, Modern Apprenticeship and SVQ 2 are examples of qualifications at this level.

Delivering the qualification

Approval to deliver the qualification

As an approved CIH AO centre, you MUST be approved by CIH AO to deliver the whole qualification. Delivery must not commence, and learner registrations will not be accepted until this process is complete.

Registering learners and fees

Prior to the delivery of the qualification, you MUST register each learner with CIH AO. A fee is payable for each learner. Once the learners are registered it is the responsibility of the centre to request an invoice and pay the registration fees. The list of fees is available on our website at the following link: www.cih.org/education/qualifications/deliver-our-qualifications.

Each learner will be offered free CIH student membership for the duration of the course.

Equality and diversity

Equality and diversity considerations were made during the development of this qualification to promote access and minimise bias. It is the centre's responsibility to ensure that equality and diversity considerations are made as part of the delivery and assessment of this qualification.

CIH AO would expect equality and diversity to be integrated into the delivery process for every learning outcome even where there are no specific assessment criteria for equality and diversity.

Contextualisation of learning outcomes and assessment criteria

Centres must contextualise the delivery and assessment of units according to the local and sectoral circumstances of the group of learners they are delivering to (e.g. a question relating to law would be applied to the law of the country in which the group of learners operate).

Staff occupational competency requirements

Sector specific requirements

Whether you are a teacher or tutor, assessor, or internal quality assurer (IQA) you must demonstrate at least one of the following housing sector specific requirements:

Continued Professional Development (CPD)

Assessment

Centres must refer to the CIH AO centre handbook prior to developing their courses and associated assessments.

The purpose of assessment is to provide a consistent and valid judgement that learners have met the standard required to achieve the qualification. The assessment criteria contained in each unit indicate the evidence learners will need to produce to demonstrate that they have achieved the learning outcomes.

All assessment for the qualification is devised by the centre, marked by the centre and then must be internally quality assured (by the centre) and externally moderated (by the CIH AO).

Assessment principles

In devising and delivering assessments the following principles must be followed.

Validity

An assessment is valid if it is clear and unambiguous 'does what it says on the tin', if it is fit for purpose, and the assessment outcomes meet their intended uses.

Reliability

An assessment is reliable if its results are not influenced by chance, and the assessment process generates outcomes which would be replicated were the assessment repeated.

Comparability

The assessment outcomes are comparable in standards between assessments within a qualification, between similar qualifications, with other awarding organisations, and over time.

Manageability

The assessment is easily managed, and the management process is one which places reasonable demands on centres and learners. Reasonableness will be based on the scale of the assessment process balanced by the usefulness of the outcomes.

Minimise bias

An assessment does not produce unreasonably adverse outcomes for learners who share a common attribute (and) is related to fairness to all learners and statutory equality duties.

Centre devised assessments

The CIH AO's approach to the assessment of qualifications is to enable centres to devise the assessments. This is to allow for appropriate assessment that reflects the unique learning experience and local circumstances of specific groups of learners.

Centres are expected to create assessment strategies that directly meet the needs of their learner groups and take into account the requirements of local employers.

Assessment methods

The following assessment methods are allowed for the assessment of the qualification:

- Coursework
- Portfolio of evidence
- E-assessment
- Multiple choice assessment
- Practical demonstration or assignment.

Special considerations and reasonable adjustments

CIH AO requires centres to be compliant with the CIH AO special considerations and reasonable adjustments policy. A reasonable adjustment is any action that helps to reduce the effect of a disability or difficulty that places the learner at a substantial disadvantage in the assessment situation. Reasonable adjustments must not affect the reliability and validity of the assessment outcomes. The centre is required to implement the adjustments to assessment and to notify CIH AO of this.

A special consideration may be given to a learner following a scheduled assessment, for example:

- If the learner misses part of the assessment due to circumstances beyond their control
Or
- The learner is present for the assessment but may have been disadvantaged by:
  - Temporary illness
  - Injury
  - Adverse circumstances which arose at or near the time of assessment.

If the centre approves or rejects a special consideration (such as a small post assessment adjustment to the mark of the learner or an adjustment to the assessment submission date) it must retain evidence of its decision for scrutiny by the external moderator.

External quality assurance

The external quality assurance system is a key feature of the quality assurance arrangements for the CIH AO. The External Quality Assurers (EQAs) and moderators play a vital role in ensuring that all individuals holding a CIH AO qualification certificate have achieved a nationally accepted standard. The moderator is required to ensure there is sufficient evidence present to demonstrate that the quality assurance principles are being upheld.

The CIH AO will appoint an EQA and moderator to each approved centre to monitor the quality assurance at the centre. Delivery of the qualification must not start until the assessment strategy and assessment brief/s have been approved by CIH AO. During the course the moderator will sample assessments and the EQA will undertake a quality review visit annually.

For further information about quality assurance refer to the centre handbook and sanctions policy.

The following is a list of other documents that your centre must be familiar with in relation to the design, delivery, assessment, and quality assurance of a CIH AO qualification:

- Centre handbook
- Complaints policy
- Conflict of interest policy
